ITEM: Free computer for your oseredok

Dear Members

If you'd like a free computer for your oseredok – read on.

This is the second year that BT, in conjunction with NEC, is giving away Internet-ready PCs (worth £1,000 each) to community organisations in the UK. Oseredok Bradford successfully obtained one of these computers last year.

The computers are: NEC PC, AMD Duron 1.2 Ghz/Intel Celeron 1.2Ghz Processor, 128 MB SDRAM, 40GB HDD, 48x CD ROM, Integrated Sound/ Graphics, VR15" Monitor, Labtec Stereo Speakers, Windows 98/XP and 56K V90 Modem. The award also includes a cheque for the sum of £180.00 to help pay the subscription to an Internet Service Provider (ISP).

Please find enclosed BT's terms and conditions. The deadline for this year's applications is 8 August 2002. For further information and how to proceed, please refer to BT's web-site at http://www.btcommunityconnections.com/ .

Who can apply?
Applications must be made by an individual representing the organisation/group. Previously unsuccessful applicants are welcome to re-apply.

We welcome applications from a range of groups including:

- Community Groups (including residents associations, community centres, community regeneration projects, church groups)
- Cultural Groups (including museums, local history groups, theatre groups)
- Disability Groups
- Elderly Groups
- Environmental Groups
- Ethnic Groups
- Sports Groups
- Women's Groups
- Medical Support Groups

Applications are not accepted from:

- Previous BT Community Connections Award winners
- Companies that exist to trade for profit
- Organisations that promote political parties
- Organisations that do not operate in the UK
- Employees of British Telecommunications Plc, LEA Events UK, their families or agents
- We welcome applications from religious organisations that want to carry out work in the community but we do not normally fund projects:
  - that are designed to promote religion itself; or
  - where people must participate in religious services in order to benefit

Equal Opportunities
We are committed to equality and will not discriminate against anyone on the grounds of sex, race, colour, ethnic origin, national origin, age or social background.

How are the applications assessed?
Assessment of all applications will be based on the following:

- Evidence that the project will benefit the local community
- Reasonable evidence that the project can achieve the results described in the application
- Review of current IT equipment
- Current levels of resources and funding will be taken into consideration
- The number of people expected to benefit, particularly directly
- Whether the project is seen to meet an identified need within the community
- Whether the application meets the criteria of who can apply
- Whether the application has been received by the published closing date (proof of posting will not be accepted as proof of delivery)
- Whether the application is complete and legible
- Clear demonstration that the award will be used in conjunction with a project that will be sustained for a minimum of 12 months from the time the award is issued for delivery

You must demonstrate in your application that you have thoroughly considered the use of the Internet-ready PC within your project/group.

Things for you to think about before completing the application:

- How will it be used?
- How often will it be used?
- How many people will use it?

- How will it benefit the community?

If you have met the assessment criteria detailed on this form and your application is short-listed it will be presented to the judging panel in your relevant region/country for final consideration.

The judges' decisions are final and no correspondence will be entered into.

Unsuccessful applicants will not be notified.

Important dates
Round Two - Summer/Autumn 2002
Application Closing Date - 09.08.02
Notification of Winners via post & on the website - 30.09.02
Delivery of Awards - from 14.10.02

Award winners
BT will expect short periodical progress reports (for which they will provide a pro-forma). BT may also appoint a project assessor, who would be responsible for visiting the project. In conjunction with periodical reports, BT will expect to work with award winners to maximise PR opportunities.

Special notes
No attachments will be accepted as part of your application.
The information you supply as part of your application is protected under the Data Protection Act 1998.
Award winners are strongly advised to make arrangements to insure their PC to the value of £1000.
The promoter is British Telecommunications plc, 81 Newgate Street, London EC1A 7AJ.

The Award Package
The award will consist of:

- NEC PC, AMD Duron 1.2 Ghz/Intel Celeron 1.2Ghz Processor, 128 MB SDRAM, 40GB HDD, 48x CD ROM, Integrated Sound/ Graphics, VR15" Monitor, Labtec Stereo Speakers, Windows 98/XP and 56K V90 Modem
- One year On Site Parts & Labour Warranty valid from the time the system is shipped for delivery
- Any request for service MUST be made to NEC Computers UK Ltd as the main provider of warranty support. Any unauthorised service MAY result in the warranty entitlement being cancelled and void by NEC Computers UK Ltd
- Technical support hotline will be available for the life time of the system
- A cheque for £180.00, made payable to the successful organisation, will be issued with the winner's notification pack on 30.09.02. The cheque is a contribution towards the costs associated with Internet subscription and Internet call charges
- It is the responsibility of the award recipient to use this contribution (£180.00) towards the establishment of a suitable Internet Service Provider (ISP) for their Internet access
- Some Internet Service Providers (ISPs), including BTopenworld Anytime, can only be subscribed to with the use of a valid credit card
- The award and all of its components (hardware, software, ISP or financial contribution) may be subject to change or substitution during the 18-month period of the award scheme
- Delivery of awards will take place between 9.00am-5.30pm Monday to Friday between 14-25 October 2002. There must be an authorised representative of your group/organisation at this address to receive and sign for the award during these times
- BT and NEC are not liable for loss of or damage to the award once a signature of receipt has been received

All other costs above and beyond that detailed in the award package are the responsibility of the winner.
